

If you find reading the Bible difficult or frustrating at times, then these seminars are for you. Six concise and informative sessions are delivered in a friendly environment. They aim to equip you with the skills required to understand the Bible for yourself and benefit from a new appreciation of it. Whether you are already familiar with the Bible or are new to reading it, these seminars will provide you with plenty of information and the desire to begin reading more effectively.

You will learn about...

- Who wrote the Bible and where it came from.
- How to learn more in less time with effective study tools.
- How to get past the difficult language sometimes used in the Bible.
- The main themes of the Bible.
- History and chronology (the order of events) in the Bible.
- How to let the Bible interpret itself.
- Evidence for believing in the truth of the Bible.
- Why it is not necessary to be a Hebrew and Greek scholar to understand the Bible.
- Why quoting a single Bible passage is dangerous (how to keep passages in context).
- The Jews and why they are so important in the Bible.
- Why there is an Old Testament and a New Testament.
- How the Bible deals with the origins of good and evil.
- How to cross-reference between verses.
- How to use a concordance and Bible software and apps.
- How to use a simple Bible reading plan to take you through the whole Bible in a year.

Things you need to know beforehand

Each of the six presentations will occupy an hour, and the presenters do try to ensure that they adhere to these time limits.

The sessions are designed to inform and stimulate, not to present sectarian views. They are designed to provide you with the skills and the overview of the Bible to help you understand what it is about, not to attempt to persuade you to adopt particular points of view or to join any specific sect.

The sessions will be conducted in an informal style, and are designed to be relaxed, enjoyable and stimulating. There will be informal opportunities at the end of each session to ask questions and to raise issues relevant to each topic.

And . . .

Everyone attending will receive a ring binder for their own notes and the course material we provide. These handouts will allow you to review the material at your own pace between classes.
